The ballot will contain the names of two Republican candidates for Governor, Frank C. Farrington of Augusta and Ralph O. Brewster of Portland; three Republican candidates for United States Senator, Bert M. Ewald of Poland, Louis A. Jack of Dover.

Mrs. Herbert Peers, Parsonfield, Me., has hatched among her Spring chickens a very rare specimen in the form of a four-legged baby. Three of the legs are constantly in use as two on one side are partly grown together while the fourth one is progressing backward, which seems to be of use to the chicken as it uses it to rest on sometimes.

Mrs. Margaret L. McFarland, Bath, Me.'s oldest person, is 102, and in her room at the Old Folks Home, present-day city by Thomas G. Plant, receiving callers and presiding over serving of refreshments. Mrs. McFarland was an excellent health and anxiously awaited callers. For days she had been planning on receiving, and was happy as a lark and filled with a sense of her importance as the oldest person in Sagadahoc county, probably in Maine.

Judge Frederick H. Chamberlain in probate court, Fitchburg, Mass., gave permission to Atty. Alvah M. Levy to "open locked trunks, tear up carpet and rip bedding" in his search for a will believed to have been left by Clarence M. Pratt. According to Atty. Levy, the will leaves the bulk of the estate, valued at $50,000, to the city of Fitchburg for the founding of a home for aged men.

The Francis E. Willard Settlement in seeking $25,000 to begin to build "The Homestead" in Bethel, Mass., at the Settlement's estate, Ellsworth Lodge on the old Miller's road, "The Homestead" would be a permanent home for old, lone women, whether they have any money or not to pay for their care, and it would be especially a home for incurable invalids and cripples.

Mary Agnes Moen, 18, daughter of James and the late Mary (Johnson) Moen, died at City Hospital, Worcester, Mass., after a brief illness. Circumstances surrounding the relationship of the girl and her father were peculiar. The father had never seen his daughter until her arrival in this country 16 days ago from Finland. The father speaks no language other than English and the young girl spoke and understood only Finnish.

Enil Proteau and his cousin, Oscar Allen, Wrentham, Mass., had narrow escapes from being killed to death by an infuriated bull, which Proteau was leading out of the barn to water. The animal, a handsome Holstein had been very gentle and never gave any trouble. He became infuriated and broke away, pushing Proteau up against the building. One of the animal's horns bruised the man's stomach and ruptured a number of blood vessels. Young Allen was knocked down, but escaped injury.

Approximately 25,000 owners of automobiles in Massachusetts are operating their machines without licenses and should be arrested immediately and brought into court for violation of the motor vehicle laws. May, in the Lawrence district court, declared that there were 250,000 motorists in Lawrence who were operating cars contrary to law.

Resolutions endorsing the present National Defense act and giving support to every movement that seeks to make war impossible were unanimously adopted by the First Corps Area chaplains at a meeting at the Army Base, Boston. The resolutions express the belief of the chaplains that the time has come for Christian ministers to take the lead in the crusade for a warless world, and add that faith must not be broken with those who died in the last conflict in an effort to end war forever.

Bristol County, Mass., has a good fall on hand waiting for a purchaser who is willing to pay a price, which will be considered reasonable by the County Commissioners. The fall was scheduled to be sold recently at a meeting of the commissioners in Taunton, and although it had been proposed sale had been given much publicity, the commissioners at the conclusion of their meeting asserted they had not received a bid which could be taken seriously. The property, which is located in a highly desirable residential section, has been appraised at $170,000.

Establishment of branch offices throughout Massachusetts of the registry of motor vehicles of the registration plates was urged before the House Ways and Means Committee by Representative Frank E. Barrows of Boston, Representative Frank W. Eaton and Representative M. Sylvia Barrows of Brockton. Representative Barrows said branch offices are operated only in a few cities in the State, but they have proved practically the system of branch offices is in effect in many States in the country. The speaker said. The present system in Massachusetts is a great inconvenience to residents of Cape Cod and other points remote from Boston, he said.

A fire seems to have over the farm of Hermon A. Coney, in Foxboro. In 1786 a complete set of farm buildings were wiped out in a fire of mysterious origin, and two cows, shut in the barn, lost their lives. The structures were replaced in 1892, and a few years afterwards the farm and month dis-ease was found in its early hardy in quick time 25 head of cattle by lightning, and last June a bolt fired the barn destroying the lives of 25 animals. Mr. Coney rebuilt the barn in another location, purchased more animals, including a pair of horses, for which he paid about $700. Last week he was obliged to summon pitrofters to shoot one of the pair.

MAY DAY AND MAY FESTIVALS TAKE ON NEW SIGNIFICANCE

"May Day and May Festivals will take on a new significance throughout America this year," said Dr. Clarence E. Kendall, State Commissioner of Health, recently.

"May Day belongs to the children, and the custom of hanging May baskets, the arranging of May parties, and the holding of May Festivals is universally observed."

"As we observe Maine boys and girls busy with their plans for May Day this year, preparing May Day baskets, rehearsing programs for their May parties, listening to their teachers read poems, stories and myths concerning May Day reaching far back into medieval times, let us remember all the children of our State."

Maine's hope for the future rests with our boys and girls of today. Too many of these youngsters are sick and crippled. While their fellows are joyous in anticipation of May Day, they are at home, or are walking about with deformed limbs or thin little bodies that can not be spurred up to take a very active part in the joyous May Day times.

Maine is facing this problem of its underprivileged children and it is setting about to meet the problem in a vigorous and a practical way. The State Department of Health, the State Department of Education, and the Maine Public Health Association have joined hands and forces in a well planned effort to help these boys and girls who need help so much.

In the May baskets which they will hang this year, thousands of children in all parts of the State will make an appeal for a silver offering to be used in the work of helping our underprivileged children. This offering is to be sent direct to the Maine Public Health Association, 318 Water St., Augusta, and the appeal which the children will make in their May baskets has been endorsed by the State Commissioner of Health, the State Superintendent of Education, the President of the State Parent-Teacher Association, and the President of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. We hope that the response to the appeal for funds with which to assist in this important work will be liberal, cheerful and promptly given.

All over the nation, the thoughts of millions of adults will center this May Day on children and on ways through which we can help them to a greater enjoyment of life through better health.

Suggestions for May Day programs, May Festivals, May Day games, May picnic lunches and other May Day activities will be supplied upon request by the State Department of Health. The program for crippled children is being handled by the Maine Public Health Association in co-operation with the departments of health and education and other Maine groups including the Maine Medical Association, women's clubs, parent-teacher associations and others.

HELP WANTED

IN BETHEL

And Furnished By the Help of Bethel People.

Those who suffer with kidney backache, urinary ills or any little kidney or bladder disorder, want kidney help. Who can better advise than some Bethel resident, who has also suffered, but has had relief. Bethel people recommend Doan's Pills. Here's one case and there are many others.

D. B. Hall, farmer, Hall St., Bethel, says: "I have always received good satisfaction through the use of Doan's Pills and recommend them to anyone in need of a reliable kidney medicine. In my line of work, I have a good deal of stooping and straining work and it's hard on the back and kidneys. My back at times, has ached so I couldn't keep on my feet and I had to go and sit down to rest. My kidneys acted irregularly. Whenever I feel any of these symptoms coming on, I go to Bosserman's Drug Store and get Doan's Pills. I use them until the trouble leaves."

Price, 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Hall had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE J. E. JONES LETTER

that we leave a sorry heritage to the next generations." Thus the importance of a guarantee of cheap fertilizer manufacture is made manifest. The Agriculture Committee finds that only one offer for Muscle Shoals contains such a guarantee, and that is the so-called Hooker proposal.

Last year, there was told in this correspondence, the story of how the cotton mills were kept going during a coal shortage, by the interconnection of power plants over 600 miles of territory in the South. It was a thrilling achievement in superpower development, and it demonstrated to those Southern States that power has replaced cotton as king. A permanent superpower development that will feed hydro-electric energy to the new Southland is assured through Muscle Shoals—unless that development should be used as Mr. Ford would likely employ it, in a centralized industrial establishment. Such a contingency shows the danger confronting the South through the misapplication of the power produced by the Tennessee River. The Senate appreciates the situation, and that body will undoubtedly see to it that Muscle Shoals is developed for the benefit of the people of the Southern States, and not as a branch for a Detroit automobile plant.

MEDICINE MANUFACTURERS
TAKE A FORWARD STEP

At the convention of the United Medicine Manufacturers of America held this month in Washington a policy that is likely to create a clearer understanding with reference to patent medicine, was definitely and effectually promulgated. The Association, which is quite new, determined that all manufacturers of proprietary medicines doing business under Government regulations, were eligible to membership. The Association will stand back of the Government in supporting its enforcement of the Food and Drugs Act, and will cooperate with the Government departments in bringing to time all proprietary medicine manufacturers who fail to give proper attention to labeling, and seek to evade fair advertising practices and honest dealings. The Mitherto unorganized proprietary interests have come to realize that a large part of their troubles have been brought about by snipers in their own industry, who have created the impression with the Government departments that they are antagonistic to the existing pure food laws. The proprietary men who are lack of the new organization have appeared before the Agriculture department and have offered convincing claims that they will cooperate with the Government to the fullest extent to compel manufacturers to sell their medicines for what they actually are, and for exactly what they claim to be. Such as time is used by the Association to represent the best interests of the industry and of those engaged within it who adhere to the practice of fair advertising and honest dealing. In effect, the new Association proposes to do its own branding, and its program is to prevent the opposition to Government control of the industry as it has been heretofore practiced by a good many manufacturers. One and all, with the result that the reputable manufacturers who compose the larger part of those engaged in the manufacture of patent medicines, have suffered by having been brought into disrepute through the acts and methods of less scrupulous members of their own fraternity.

HADDER AND SANER
Washington is not as excited as it was a few weeks ago, but things in the National Capital are moving along as a more even keel than in the days when the boat rocked in the port of war.

The boat rocked in the port of war, and when a Cabinet officer had daily to walk the gang plank. The sensational investigations have no doubt thrown the "sneer" into evil-doers, and Uncle Sam will profit in consequence. The Capital is sadder and sanner, and Congress is now getting down to work in the hope of disposing of some big matters of legislation.

New Beauty for Old Furniture

You will be surprised to find how easily and inexpensively you can renew and beautify old furniture with a coat or two of Neptunite Varnish. You can have a smooth finish or a dull, satiny finish—whichever you wish. Whatever the style of the furniture, or the kind of wood, you can be sure of restoring its original beauty and of preserving it for a long time to come. And you can be sure, too, that it will never turn white, not even when subjected to hot or cold water, or even to steam.
